

Emanuel Vlček

Physical and personality traits of Charles IV, Holy Roman Emperor and King of Bohemia

A medical-anthropological investigation

KAROLINUM

Physical and personality traits of Charles IV, Holy Roman Emperor and King of Bohemia

A medical-anthropological investigation

Emanuel Vlček

Published by Charles University in Prague

Karolinum Press

Translated by Christopher Colton and Ludmila Bébarová

Edited by Jan Bartoníček and Jan Royt

Technical collaborator Marek Jantač

Layout by Jakub Krč

Typeset by DTP Karolinum Press

First edition

This book was kindly supported by the Ministry of Culture of the Czech Republic.

MINISTRY OF CULTURE
CZECH REPUBLIC

© Charles University in Prague, 2016

Text © Emanuel Vlček, 2016

Appendix 1 © Jan Bartoníček, 2016

Translation © Christopher Colton and Ludmila Bébarová, 2016

Preface © Tomáš Zima, 2016

Cover photo © National Gallery in Prague; Prague Castle Administration - Jan Gloc, 2016

ISBN 978-80-246-3377-0

ISBN 978-80-246-3409-8 (online : pdf)

Charles University in Prague
Karolinum Press 2016

www.karolinum.cz
ebooks@karolinum.cz

Contents

Preface	/7
Physical and personality traits of Charles IV, Holy Roman Emperor and King of Bohemia
A medical-anthropological investigation	/9
Demographic data	/11
Hereditary signs on the skeleton	/11
The appearance of Charles IV	/11
Blood group serology tests	/12
Embalming of the body of Charles IV	/12
Information provided by the skeletal remains of Charles IV	/15
The skull	/15
Reconstruction of the Emperor's appearance	/17
The build of Charles IV	/20
State of health of Charles IV	/23
First serious disease of Charles IV in 1350	/24
Second serious disease of Charles IV in 1371	/26
Chronic gout of Emperor Charles IV	/26
Eye disease	/28
Injuries to the skeleton of Charles IV	/29
Fractures of the maxillofacial skeleton	/29
Spinal injuries	/31
Incised wounds on the face	/33
Blunt injuries to the skull and facial skeleton	/34
Injuries to long bones of limbs	/35
The cause of death of Charles IV	/37
Conclusion	/39
Appendix 1 / Research update	/41
Appendix 2 / Composition of expert panel	/45
Emanuel Vlček – the Emperor's anthropologist	/49
Acknowledgements	/55